OUR HERITAGE IS...

SPIRITUAL

PP. 1 - 10

From God, our greatest heritage is Himself - given on the Cross for love of us. Since then, enriched by the rolling centuries, we have been blessed beyond all our deserving with their treasures. Proud of this ancient heritage we at Walsingham try to be worthy of it by preparing "with strength and sacrifice" for a future when, with "faith and devotion" we shall defend freedom with Christian ideals. Our love alone can save the world - love of God - our spiritual heritage - love of truth and beauty - our cultural heritage and love of each other - our neighbor as ourselves - our social heritage.

THIS IS A GOLDEN

NINE HUNDRED YEARS ago in England, Our Lady of Walsingham's shrine was built. At St. Bede's, Father Frederick J. Beardsley, assistant pastor, and Father Francis J. Mooney, pastor, carry on the lovely tradition of devotion to Our Lady of Walsingham at her American shrine.

MOTHER MARY BERNARD, C.R.S.M.
Mother General of the Sisters of Mercy

Over a century ago, Mother Mary Patricia Waldron of the Sisters of Mercy in Ireland was selected to sail "for the greater glory of God" to America. From there she was chosen to head a small group of Sisters bound for Philadelphia and a new foundation.

Arriving on August 22, 1861, they opened the first Mercy Academy in Philadelphia. Mater Misericordiae Academy began in 1884 followed by Waldron Academy for Boys.

During the years, two of the largest hospitals in Philadelphia, as well as smaller hospitals in two states, opened under the care of the Sisters. Day Camps, schools for retarded children, 11 high schools, 32 parochial schools, a junior college, a home for working girls, and three homes for business women are included in the service of the poor, the sick, and the ignorant.

However, Walsingham Academy, Williamsburg, Virginia, holds the distinction of being the first school of the Sisters outside their home state. In 1947, Mother Mary Bernard sent Sister Mary Constance and our first faculty to Williamsburg. Now there are Philadelphia Sisters of Mercy in six states as well as in India.

YEAR ...

A CENTURY of service to God and neighbor is celebrated by the red and gold Centenary decorations admired by Sister Stella Maria, Prefect of Studies and Sister Mary Grace, Principal.

FACULTY MEMBERS take time to grow professionally and also to praise our library's new look. Extensive improvement, new equipment and many new books and periodicals have kept Sister Mary Redempta and her corps of part time librarians more than busy this year. In fact, Sister Mary Evangelist, Sister Mary Redempta, librarian, Sister Mary Martin, Mrs. Peter Czap and Mrs. Armand Galfo were just discussing how much more our children are now reading!

Have you ever noticed how busy chapel is in the early morning before school? All of the Sisters including Sisters Clare Marie, Mary Delphine and Anne Marie and many of the students daily ask God's blessing on our work.

FOR US AS WELL AS THE SISTERS OF MERCY

IN JANUARY Sister Mary Janet, Sister Mary Cletus, and Sister Hubert Mary were already enthusiastically discussing plans for this Summer's Walsingham Day Camp.

PARENTS CLUB meetings are doubley important for Mrs. Timothy Devitt and Mrs. Duane Weber. Talking shop with Sister Antoinette Marie, they both "lead two lives" as devoted parents and valued teachers.

"I guess I lost my Review Notes," lightly exclaims a student, not realizing the hours of work involved for all teachers including Sister Marie Helene, Sister Patrick Mary and Miss Irene Haupt in preparing such notes.

OUR HERITAGE IS INTELLECTUAL

Sister Mary Constance, our first principal from 1947 to 1956, set standards of the highest INTELLECTUAL ideals for Walsingham. Since her death on March 6, 1960, we have not forgotten Sister as we know that, with God, she has not forgotten us.

SUCH IMPRESSIVE SCENES as the Wren Building of William and Mary are everyday sights to Violet Ross, Bill McCall, Gay Campbell, Burt Montcrief, and Tish Holden who are frequent visitors to the College Library.

"THEY'RE STEALING THE POWDER!" but Mary Ann Permoda, Sheila Cassidy, Evelyn Casey, Charles Hutchens and the Colonial Militiaman do not seem disquieted for Cary Peet is standing by, well armed.

SENIOR II

STEPS INTO HISTORY

AMERICAN HISTORY LIVES for Martha Gordon, Dennis Williams, Martha Funke and Bill Cross as they investigate the roots of American Legislative procedure. Our Walsingham S.C.A. follows this same tradition.

TEMPTING AROMAS add to the eager anticipation of Alice Malone, Christopher Hatchell, David DeWald and Cheryl Lirette as they watch Janice Bickerstaff deftly remove a gingerbread boy.

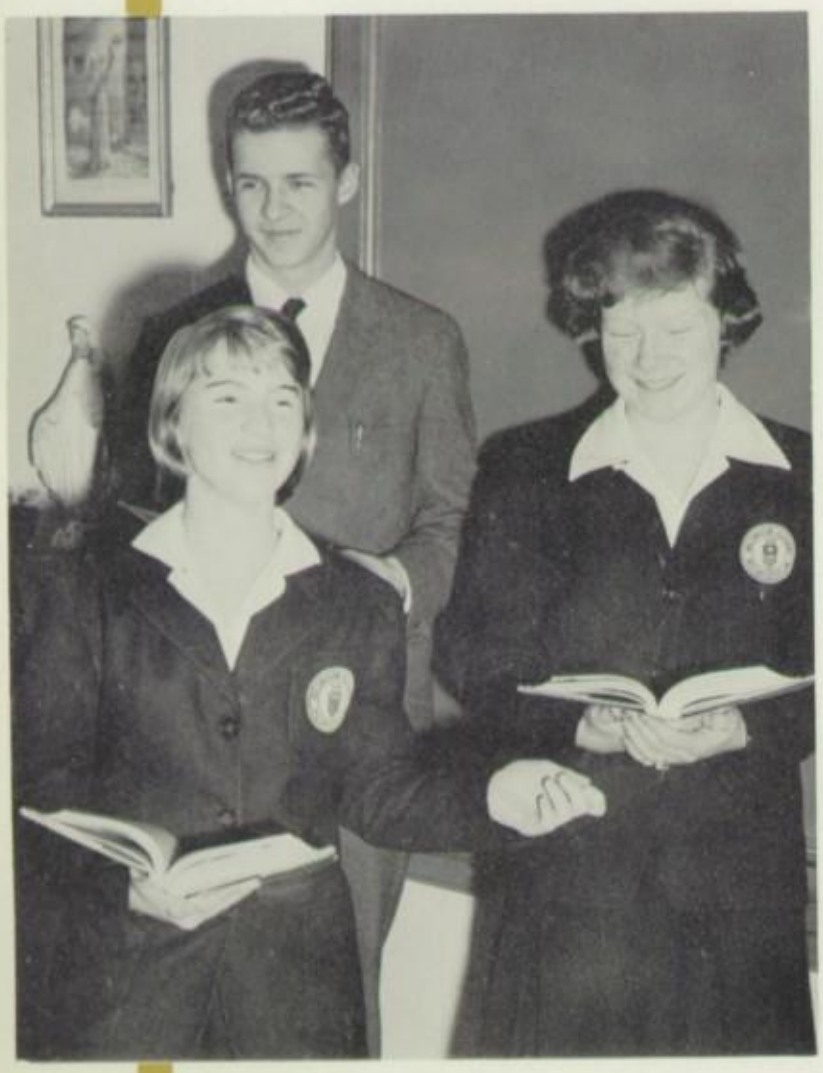
FREEDOM WAS WON not only by battles but also by bread-the staff of life. Colonial farmers climbed these historic steps to grind wheat, where we now see Dennis Ward, Kathy Steinkrauss, Carolyn Meyer, Barbara Sturm and Marilyn Meyer.

WALKING IN HISTORY'S SHADOW, Kathryn Kane, Margaret Mann, Margaret Mullen, Elizabeth Metz and Gerry Greeve often pass famous Bruton Parish Church where many of our founding fathers worshipped.

THIS IS SOLID and we're not using slang! John Powers, Cecilia Basta, Pat Naylor, Lynne Albano, and Donna Hussey prepare for the space age by learning new principles of space geometry.

FRENCH A LA TAPE RECORDER is an exciting experience for Kathy Kaufer, Susan Schmitz, Don Hamilton and Jane Fallon.

ROLLING SHAKESPEAREAN PHRASES come easily to Annie Sheldon, Charles Keagy and Joan Best when they open their English Lit books.



SENIOR 111

THIS IS NOT A Borden's commercial. Philip Sparks, Philip Clarke, Robert Vogt, Anne Molesky and Michele Sellers will tell you it just happened that way.

LATIN SCHOLARS are not so glum in real life but, as Roman soldiers, Kenny Lucas and Gary Dzikowski, and as Helvetian women "passing under the yoke", Brooks Steinkrauss, Joan diRende and Arlene Ward, they must look their parts.

FERN FRONDS hold varying degrees of fascination for Alan Ringgold, Bernard O'Donnell and Barbara Ross.

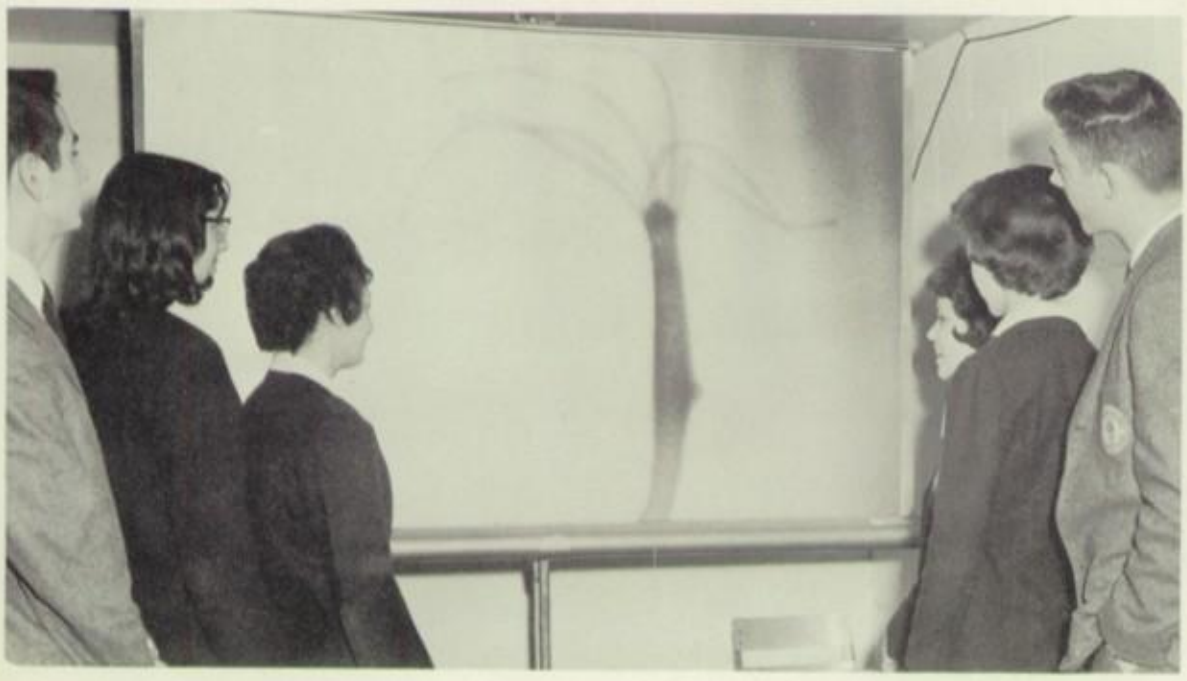
PROFITS IN DIVERSITY



JUNIOR 1 INHERITS

FAVORITE INDOOR SPORT at lunchtime seems to be the candy counter judging from the "mob scene" played by: Joan Kobelbauer, Della Jones, Robert Servonsky, Gregory Chamberlain, True Lublin, Jennifer Stant, and Andrew Bradley.

ALL OUT FOR ENGLISH are: Kathryn Funke, Phyllis Whitecotton, Nancy O'Keefe, and Annette Garofalo as they explore our Civil War Poets during the Centennial of the War Between the States.

INTERSCHOLASTIC WRESTLING finds enthusiastic response from: Andrew Bradley, Clyde Boyer, Robert Schmitz, Dennis Foster, Gregory Hamilton, and Joe Skaggs.

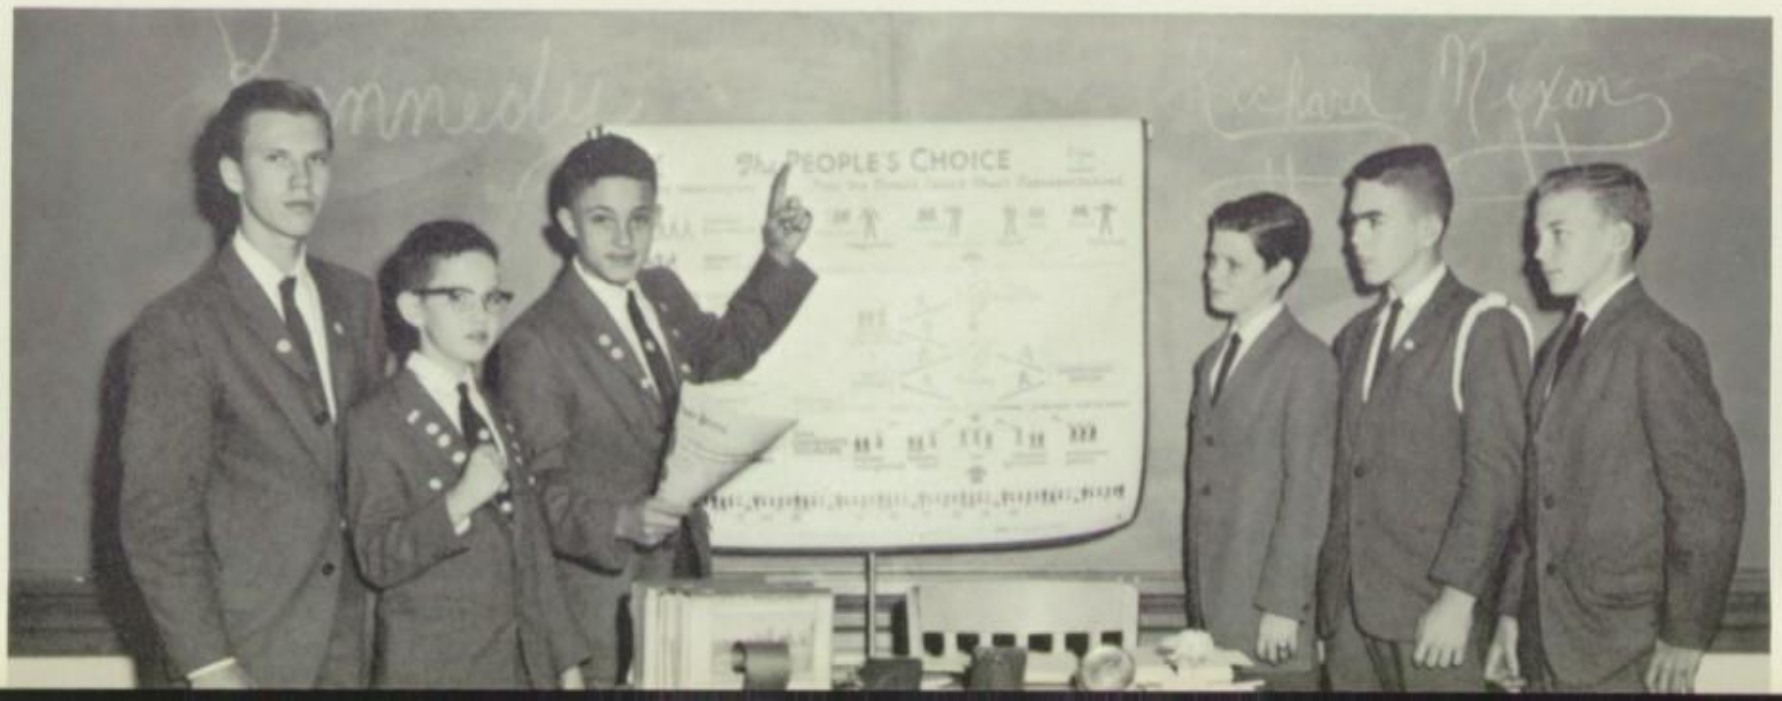
KNOWLEDGE

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES hold the attention of these avid fans, Peter Campas, Paul Thiel, Sharon Hoffman and Brian Hutchens. For once, these acts are not basketball but biblical.

BELL'S INVENTION usually has a line-up after school as Douglas Leonard, Stephen Winters and Michael Porter can testify.

MONEY IS THE ROOT not only of all evil but also of this Algebra coin problem as Margaret Bailey, Barbara Devitt, Cynthia Baker and Marie Selden soon discover.

NIXON WON, in Virginia that is, but largely due to the frantic efforts of Donald Tabbut (middle), backed by Bill Tienken and Gregory Gosik. W. A. went Kennedy three to one. Nixon supporters in this American Government debate are Richard De Wald, Joe Skaggs and Stephen Tokarz.



OUR HERITAGE IS CULTURAL

Sister Mary Grace, our principal since 1956, has been untiring in her efforts to provide us with every educational enrichment. Besides the CULTURAL benefits of Walsingham, Sister encourages and arranges for us to make use of priceless opportunities provided by Colonial Williamsburg and the College.

THE PATRIOT, Williamsburg's saga, features Walsingham students. This group from former days are outside the first Walsingham, where school history and traditions began - the lovely Colonial-style building better known as "601".

TRADITION ENRICHES

MIXED CHORUS: Frank Edson, David Holland, Michael Kipps, William Malloy, Don McKay, John Pritchard, Andrew Ringgold, Martin Schiffbauer, David Stolarski, Martin Thiel, Gerald Greeve, Christopher Hatchell, Charles Hutchens, Wilfred McCall, Dennis Ward, Dennis Williams, Philip Clark, Don Hamilton, Ronald Morgan, Philip Sparks, James Troutman, Peter Campas, Gregory Hamilton, Robert Schmitz, William Tienken and selected members of the Glee Club.

GLEE CLUB: Joanna Buck, Cynthia Campas, Anastasia Cassidy, Nancy DeWald, Annabelle Eaton, Emmie Englehorn, Gretchen Klunder, Sue Lougee, Kerry O'Connor, Katie O'Hara, Margaret Ritter.

AMERICA, OUR HERITAGE is one of the selections on the program of the Glee Club and Mixed Chorus this year. The Spring Music Festival was held on April 8 and 9. By special invitation of Mother Mary Bernard our two singing groups were invited to give a special Centenary Year Concert in Philadelphia on the week-end beginning Thursday, May 11. On May 21, they took part in the Catholic High Schools of Virginia Music Festival in Richmond.

SONG AND STORY

Madame Gordon Ringgold, who brings the culture of her native land to her eager French students, yields the spotlight to her son, Alan who is a long-standing member of Colonial Williamsburg Militia's Fife and Drum Corps.

Vicky Stoen, Bette Lee Wilbur, Patricia Wise, Janice Bickerstaff, Evelyn Casey, Sheilah Cassidy, Martha Funke, Martha Gordon, Kathy Kane, Cheryl Lirette, Alice Malone, Margaret Mann, Elizabeth Metz, Carolyn Meyer, Marilyn Meyer, Margaret Mullen, Mary Ann Permoda, Margaret Peter, Violet Ross, Kathy Steinkrauss, Barbara Sturm, Lynn Albano, Cecilia Basta, Sherry Bauer, Joan Best, Shirley Capek, Joan DiRende, Jane Fallon, Joan Jenkins, Kathy Kaufer, Cherry King, Ann Molesky, Patricia Naylor, Susan Schmitz, Ann Sheldon, Brooks Steinkrauss, Kathy Vancho, and Arlene Ward.

The Glee Club entertained at many functions both inside and outside of school. Under the direction of Sister Antoinette Marie, the Mixed Chorus and Glee Club sang selections from - Sound of Music, a medley from Music Man, Anthem for Spring, One God, Stout-Hearted Men, I Hear A Song, The Gospel Train, Climbing Up The Mountain, I Believe, The Donkey Serenade and others. All agree that the surprise finale for "The Spring Music Festival" was one of the highlights of our year.

SAY IT WITH

Elizabeth Metz and Cynthia Campas have accompanied the Junior Musicale, the Senior Musicale, the Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus for three years and four years respectively.

Cathy Vancho is one of the many music pupils who benefit greatly from the untiring efforts of Mrs. Wilbur-Carey Morton. Her students and those of Sister Marie Helene and Sister Antoinette Marie take part in numerous musical events during the year. The Variety Show, a less formal annual event, gives everyone including the dancing classes opportunity to use talents.

Gerry Greeves, a winner of Williamsburg Essay Contest, Kathy Kaufer, a winner in Bland Music Contest, and Bill McCall, acting Mayor of Newport News are congratulated by Sister Antoinette Marie.

BLAND MUSIC participants, S. Panzera, M. Permoda, M. Funke, K. O'-Hara, and seated at the piano, E. Metz, are unusually talented both vocally and instrumentally.

PRESENTING: THE SHIELD

"Journalism is the most challenging, most rewarding and most influential profession in the world," says a prominent educator.

Our Publication Staff Members agree.

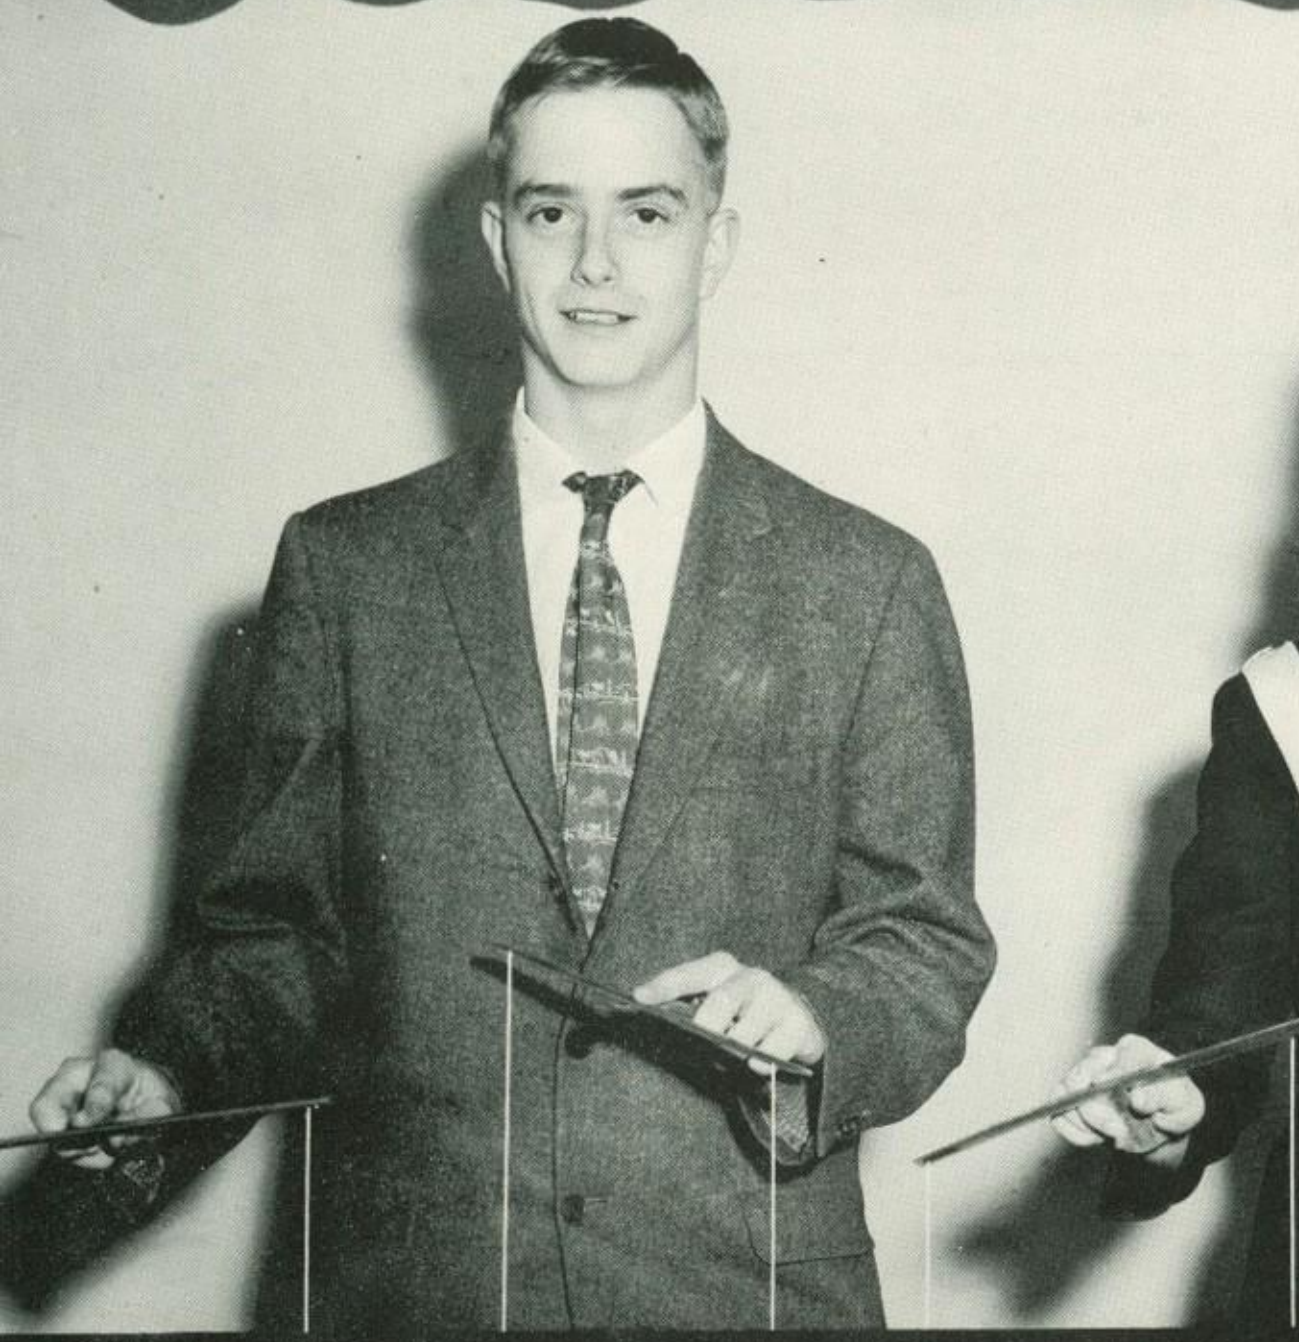
For the second year, Walsingham has been able to boast of a printed newspaper. The "Shield" has been successful due to the untiring efforts of Sister Mary Martin, together with the Co-Editors, Bette Lee Wilbur and Cynthia Campas.

A subscription drive held in September provided the means of financing the paper and was supplemented by various other fund-raising activities.

Aside from being a form of entertainment and a way of handing down W.A.'s traditions, the "Shield" affords its staff the opportunity of receiving a practical education in perseverance and hard work.

Staff members Carolyn Meyer, Cheryl Lirette, Kenneth Lucas, Joanna Buck, and Marilyn Meyer review a recent issue of the 1961 Shield. Pat Wise and Nancy DeWald are valued typists.

AND THE LEGENDE



THE BIG QUESTION all year was how to finance the new color and extra pages. This problem fell to Frank Edson, Business Manager, who engineered a "Legende" dance in Sept. and a series of Cake Bakes in the Spring.

The story of the 1961 "Legende" goes back to April of 1960 when Katie O'Hara, Vicky Stoen, David Holland and Gretchen Klunder began working on W.A.'s first Literary Supplement to the "Legende". On the basis of their initiative, responsibility and willingness to sacrifice a great deal of time,David and Vicky were chosen editors by Sister Patrick Mary, Moderator. From the very beginning, Gretchen, Art Editor was indespensable and many of the better ideas of this book are the result of her talent. During the summer Vicky and Gretchen had attended a Yearbook workshop at Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

The Staff wishes to thank Trooper R. D. Jones for his excellent photography and to acknowledge that the quotes in the introduction and finis of our book are taken from the 1961 Presidential Inauguration Address.

JOHN PRITCHARD BRINGS down the rebound out of a melée of flying arms to start the Apostles on their devastating fast break.

WALSINGHAM'S CENTER, Dennis Ward, gets another two points as the Apostles trounce St. Patrick's for victory number six.

After years of heart-breaking defeat, winning only seven games in the past seven years, the Apostles, under the able guidence of Coach Robert Evanovich, finally threw off the shackles of frustration and finished the season with a 7-4 record. The Apostles began the season in the customary manner by losing the first two games. Then Coach Evanovich's fire broke the seven year spell and the Apostles, led by high scoring Martin Thiel (13.5) and Charles Hutchens (11.1) rolled through a seven game winning streak.

The Apostles most exciting victory occured against Barry-Robinson at Walsingham. Coach Ivo's boys were without the aid of first-stringers M. Thiel and J. Pritchard. The Apostles superior shooting quickly enabled them to take a 15-2 lead but the Rangers ball-handling gradually narrowed the gap until they overtook the Apostles and gained a three-point lead. When the final buzzer sounded, the score was deadlocked in a 39-39 tie. A brilliant three minute overtime period ended with the Apostles the victors by a score of 43-41.

"JUMP, JO, jump a little higher" rings throughout the gym as Joanna Buck stretches for the ball.

"15 RAHS FOR OUR TEAM" shout the cheerleaders, kneeling: Anne Molseky, Barbara Sturm, (captain) Janice Bickerstaff, Margaret Ritter and Alice Malone. Standing: (alt.) Michele Sellers, Carolyn Meyers, Cheryl Lirette, (alt.) Nancy Cassidy, Marilyn Meyers, Margaret Mann, and (mascot) Stacie Notine.

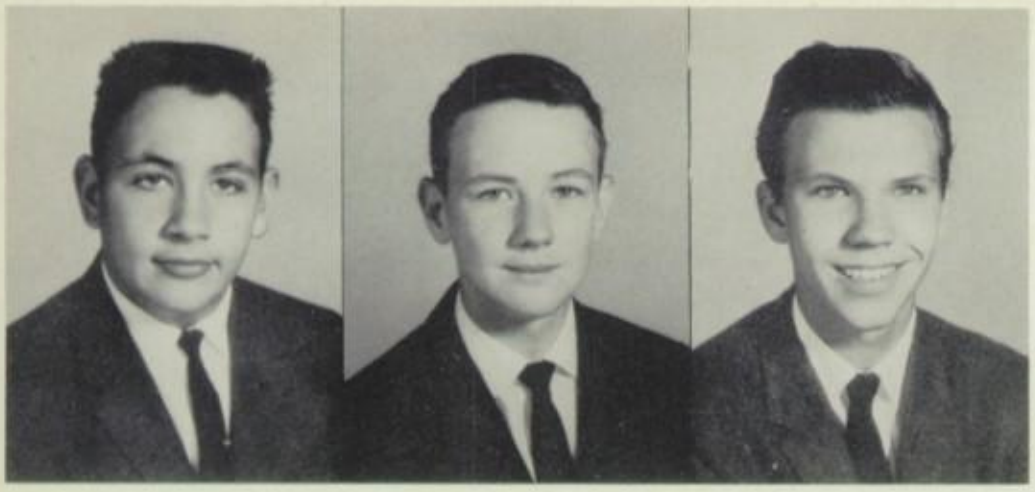
THE MAD SCRAMBLE for the basketball illustrates the zeal with which the Mariettes perform.



W.A.'S FAMOUS

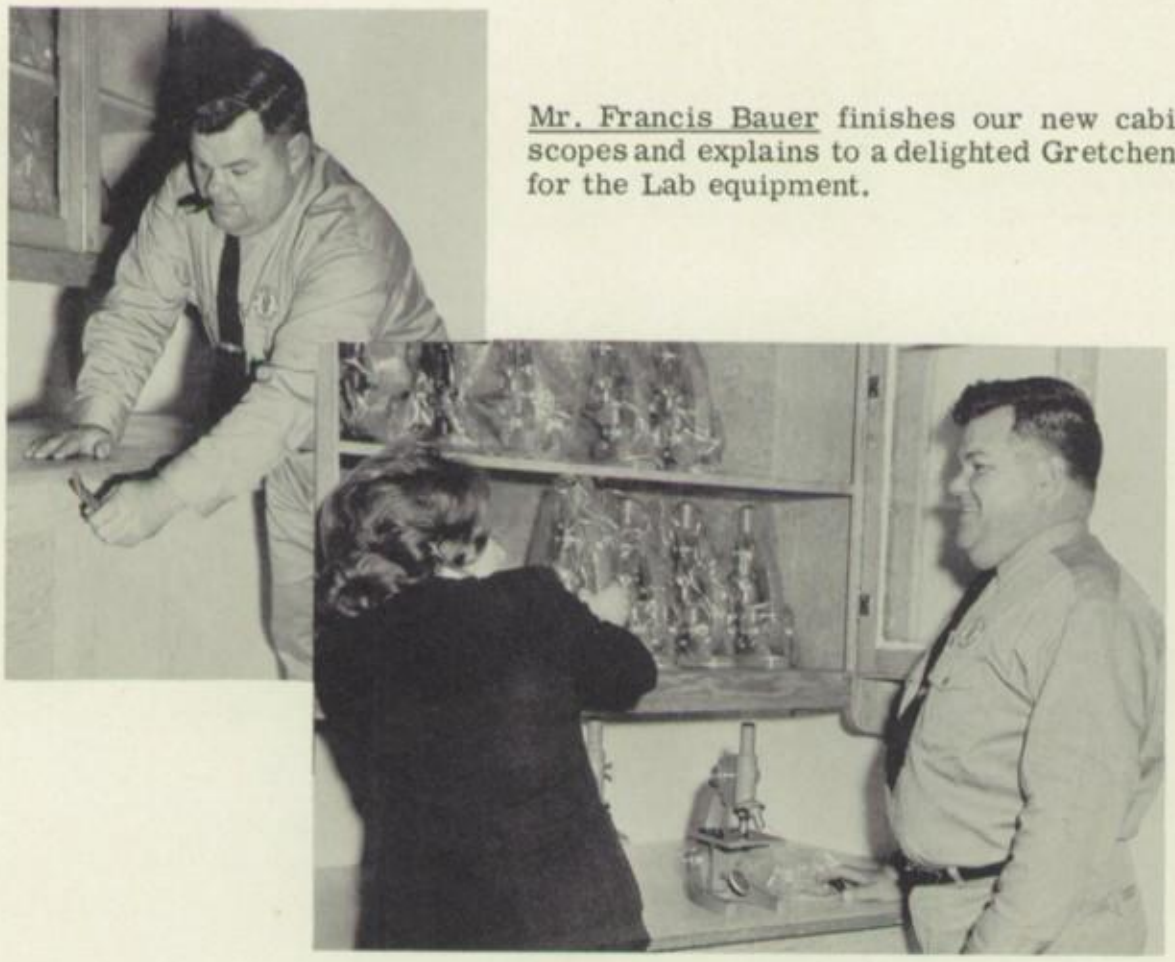
FRESHMEN: Peter Campas, Brian Hutchens and Gregory Gosik practice with the Senior Varsity now. However, when Peter joins the eighth graders against any Junior High Opponent, the score usually looks good. David Thiel, Timothy Devitt and Roddy Whibley are three "veteran" J. V. Players from the eighth grade. Coached by Mr. Timothy Devitt, they ended their season with a 5-4 record. One of the memorable victories was a 36-21 victory over York Junior High School.

J. V. MARIETTES ARE LOOKING towards the day when the follow in their "Big Sisters Footsteps." They are: (front row) Teresa Conques, Linda Sturm, Cathia Joye, Kathy Minnerly, Kathy Rogers; (middle) Patty Ward, Carol Concilus, Cary Holland, Stephanie Panzera; (rear) Meg Greeve, Kathy Thiel, Kassie Solan, Carol Farthing, and Anne Peet. In their game against the Senior Varsity the score was not terribly high against them. One of their big victories this year was against Saint Vincent Junior Varsity, 20-16.

INTERSCHOLASTIC SOFTBALL was begun last year by Miss Layne, here calling "two strikes!" against batter, Shirley Batten. Reserve forces are: Mary di Rende, Susie Metz, Kassie Solan, Pat Ward, and Patty Armstrong. Miss Layne teaches four French classes, Health, Girls' Gym, and is Basketball Coach.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

WALSINGHAM fourth and fifth graders may see themselves any day in the Colonial Williamsburg Film, "Music of Williamsburg." In this "ring game", George Eager played the apple tree and Karen Devitt, the old lady.



Mr. Francis Bauer finishes our new cabinet for all those new microscopes and explains to a delighted Gretchen Klunder the best way to care for the Lab equipment.

The situation is well in hand-always when Mr. Bauer is on hand. Mr. Bauer makes as well as maintains traditions, constructing sleds to delight the boarders, playground equipment to please the small fry and erecting such things as a giant Christmas tree on the green for everybody.

Although Mr. Bauer is responsible for the care of property requiring constant attention and for maintaining high standards of order, he never loses his cheer, courtesy, and helpfulness.

Mr. Timothy Devitt, President of the Parents' Club, has carried on one of our finest traditions -- the devoted, enthusiastic and generous support of our parents. Here, at the Christmas party for the Sisters, Mr. Devitt, Sister Mary Grace, and Program Director, Mr. Miller chalk up another big success for the Parents' Club.

SINGING THROUGH THE SEASONS

AT THE BOARDERS' Halloween Party, Stacie Notine mischievously frightens Gretchen while Emmie and Kerry look on.

"HARVEST MOON" sends swift justice to haunt Stacie. Sister Mary Cletus, Cindy Zodda, and Pam Shoultz know that it's only Violet in disguise.

NOW SENIORS Vicky, Emmie, and Kerry can enjoy the party in peace.

"WILL YOU step into my chamber" say the boarders as they entertain the Sisters with "ghastly get-up."

ACT I
ENTER EMMIE, the hero to pay the rent of Mother (Alice Malone) and Heroine (Pat Naylor). Gretchen plays the Villain and Stacie gets a walk-on.

WINTER WONDERLAND is provided by Mr. Bauer and his fun-filled tobbogan trips for boarders and anyone else who braves the blizzards to come to school.

These demure young ladies are not members of the Polar Bear Club. They're waiting 'til we're not looking to throw a snowball or two! At the entrance to the Boarders' Quarters, they are: Margo Peter, Shirley Capek, Violet Ross, Michelle Sellers, Lynne Albano, Pat Naylor, Cherry King, and Janice Bickerstaff.

"YOUNGER THAN SPRINGTIME" are Jennifer Stant, Lynne Albano and Ture Lublin who have kept "The Sound of Music" in the Boarders' Quarters from "September Song" to "June Is Bustin' Out All Over."

AMID flickering lights and growing darkness, Walsingham's student body, personifying the Christmas Spirit, re-enacts the coming of Christ on Earth in the eighth annual Candlelight Procession.

WE'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER

ANNABELLE EATON crowns Our Lady in the annual May Procession.

Excitement and anticipation mounted, especially for the Seniors, as Graduation Day became a vague reality. Waiting for results from the college board examinations and for notification of acceptance from the college of our choice was only the beginning. During the long hopeful days, we turned our thoughts towards the future, when we, as graduating Seniors would share many happy occasions. We knew that these memories: The Senior Prom, Baccalaureate Mass and Breakfast, Class Day, and Graduation itself, would always be with us--a part of our heritage.

PAT WISE SMILES happily at Don McKay in anticipation of that "night of nights."

"GRADUATION MEDALS and Diplomas are awarded..." markes the highpoint of Walsingham's Graduation Ceremonies.
